

Kate Henson is a seasoned expert in Training and Development with 24 years of experience in change management, organizational development, and leadership consulting. A passionate advocate for empowering women, Kate has dedicated a significant portion of her career to creating opportunities for women to thrive in leadership and professional environments. By providing targeted training and mentorship, Kate helps women unlock their potential and overcome barriers to success.